Treat Dogs Gently In Hot Weather

With summer vacations hand, and the accompanying influx of visitors and their pets to the beach towns, Dr. B. A. Kogan, district health officer is urging that parents instruct their children in the care and handling of dogs.

A recent increase in animal bites has resulted in many painful lacerations and disfiguring scars, especially insofar as small children are concerned. The doctor suggests that the following points be stressed in training children to have a healthy respect for a stray dog as well as for the family pet.

Never tease a dog. Never allow a child to romp over or maul a dog.

Stay away from any strange dog.

If a dog is behind a fence or in a car, do not attempt to make friends with him.

Frequently a dog will chase a child in play. This should be discouraged as certain breeds are hunters and may have a temporary loss of memory and revert to hunting instincts.

If a child or adult is bitten by any dog, the police or health department should be notified.

Girls Off to Camp Yallani

Some of the girls from the newly-formed Okiciyapi Winuke Camp Fire group are currently engaged in taking swimming lessons at a local swim school. Those participating are Linda Kern, Lynda Barber, Leslie Lightner, Peggy Taylor, Janet White, Carol Ellis, Gwen Glenn, and Jennifer Cable.

Some of the group will return by bus today from a week at Camp Yallani, one of the two camps maintained by the Los Angeles area Campfire council, in the San Bernardino mountains. Attending camp will be Linda Kern, Peggy Taylor, Leslie Lightner, Janet White, Sherry Whitlow, Anne Yokoyama, and Vickie Thompson.

The entire group of Camp Fire Girls, under the leadership of Mmes. Delmer D. Kern and Dean White, are currently making plastic-lined "Tote" bags, their various camping, swimming and other group activities.
